

Environmental Health & Safety Manager

POSITION SUMMARY

The Environmental Health and Safety Manager provides leadership and support in environmental, occupational health and safety, process safety and risk management, program integration, and training on a global basis.

POSITION QUALIFICATIONS

Accountability: Ability to accomplish set goals for myself and the company

Accurate: Ability to inform and retain critical safety information.

Analytical Skills: Ability to use thinking and reasoning to solve a problem

Interpersonal: Ability to communicate and adapt to others way of learning and understanding

Leadership: Ability to influence others to perform their jobs promptly and effectively

Management Skills: Ability communicate, inform, and train in safety procedures

Organized: Possessing the trait of being organized or following a systematic method of performing a task

Project Management: Ability to organize and direct a project, audit, or investigation

Time Oriented: Ability to be able to provide information and trainings without disrupting work procedures

Working Under Pressure: Ability to complete multiple assigned tasks

Education

Bachelor's degree or related experience

